EHAC: For more than 50 years, EHAC has provided science-based accreditation of Environmental Health (EH) Undergraduate and Graduate Degree Programs. EHAC currently accredits 29 Undergraduate and 10 Graduate Degree Programs in 21 states on 31 college campuses.

Workforce Ready Graduates!
- EHAC program graduates are hired by USPHS, local and state health departments AND Fortune 100 Companies.
- Many EHAC accredited degree programs experience a 95% job placement rate!
- EH workforce crisis - an almost 80% increase in the public health workforce is needed to provide adequate infrastructure and a minimum of public health services – including at least 9,500 new EH practitioners (de Beaumont 2021).

Universities with EH Accredited Environmental Health Degree Programs

EHAC Undergraduate Degree Programs:
- Benedict College, SC
- Boise State University, ID
- California State University at San Bernardino
- Central Michigan University
- Colorado State University
- East Central University, OK
- East Tennessee State University
- Illinois State University
- Indiana University Purdue University of Indianapolis
- Missouri Southern State University
- North Carolina Central University
- Ohio University
- Old Dominion University, VA
- State University of New York, Environmental Science and Forestry
- Texas Southern University
- University of Georgia, Athens
- University of Washington
- University of Wisconsin, Eau Claire
- University of Wisconsin, Osh Kosh
- West Chester University, PA
- Western Carolina University, NC

EHAC Accredited Graduate Degree Programs:
- Baylor University, TX
- California State University at Northridge
- East Carolina University, NC
- Eastern Kentucky University
- East Tennessee State University
- Mississippi Valley State University
- University of Findlay, OH
- Western Kentucky University

Since 1999, the Association of Environmental Health Academic Programs (AEHAP) has Championed EHAC Accredited Environmental Health Degree Programs on Campuses Across the Country.

AEHAP provides essential support to EHAC member degree program faculty and students with:
- Student Recruiting & Engagement
- Internship & Scholarship opportunities
- EH Networking opportunities
- Student Award opportunities
- Presentation opportunities